SUBJECT: STUDENTS' COHESION AND INTEGRATION

The above subject refers.

The university wishes to reassure all students that their safety, dignity and well-being remain a priority. We recognize that students may hold different political views and affiliations. Such views should not become a source of division, intimidation, discrimination, hostility or conflict within the institution.

In this regard, students are called upon to:

1. Respect one another regardless of political affiliation, background, beliefs or opinions.
2. Promote cohesion and integration within their classes, departments, residences, student associations and other spaces of interaction.
3. Engage in constructive and respectful dialogue when discussing divergent matters.
4. Refrain from discrimination or victimization of fellow students on the basis of their views.
5. Report any incidents that may threaten the safety or well-being of students through the appropriate institutional channels.

The university further reminds all students that the institution is a learning environment where diversity of views should be handled with maturity, tolerance and respect. Students are encouraged to concentrate on their academic and personal development while contributing positively to a peaceful and inclusive institutional community.

The university remains committed to providing a safe, inclusive and conducive environment for learning and will continue to work with students and staff to promote cohesion, integration and peaceful coexistence.

Thank you.
